the first of several bridges to be constructed in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties on this highway, that a precedent will be set for bridges to be constructed later over other streams and waterways with the same or comparable inadequate clearances."

If the present plans were to be set for all bridges on I-10 across the southern part of Mississippi, all of which is located in the 5th District which he represents, Colmer expressed fear much damage would be done to the future navigation hopes and plans for the Pascagoula River and its main tributaries forming the Pat Harrison Waterway District.

The clearances are inadequate for the Jordan River "even at the present use of that river for navigational purposes, not to mention its future potential in this fast developing area," the Congressman continued. He cited further the industrial development on the Gulf Coast.

"Progress and development needed all over this nation will never come if we plan in the past or only in the present," Colmer concluded.

The Engineers conduct hearings on these matters from a standpoint of navigation. The Corps sent notices this week that objections must be filed for Dec. 18 on construction plans for I-10 bridges over Bayou Bernard near Gulfport where the planned clearances are 27 feet horizontal and 17 feet vertical.

WAVELAND VOTER BRAVES RAIN TO CAST BOND ISSUE BALLOT

Lift parking meter fee 1 hour for Yule

One hour free parking in metered zones of Bay St. Louis has been authorized for the entire month of December to promote Christmas shopping at home.

City Commission Council voted the change after a delegation of businessmen from the beach front area petitioned Monday for a moratorium on meter regulations during the holiday season.

Under the plan adopted, meters will be hooded in the same manner as those in Gulfport and motorists will be allowed to park free for one hour in the stall. But the one hour limit will be enforced, city officials said, and anyone overstaying his visit will be ticketed.

More bids called on MTO jobs

Bids were opened on one construction job at Mississippi Test Operations last week while those on two others were called for December and prices are scheduled for opening Tuesday at the Corps of Engineers District office in Mobile on the second giant Saturn V test stand.

Employment at the test site continued its upward movement this week with 2,958 listed Monday, an increase of 32 from last week. Construction workers number 2,373. Tuesday's 2.42 inches of rain slowed construction somewhat but activity resumed Wednesday and with favorable weather will continue over the weekend with only General Electric Co., support contractor, taking a long Thanksgiving holiday.

Chaney and Hope, Inc., of Addison, Tex., submitted the apparent low bid last Thursday of $309,437 on additional industrial water supply facilities including a 700-foot well, E.K. Jenkins, Inc., of Wichita, Kan., was second low among four bidders at $359,842. The Corps of Engineers is now evaluating the prices.

Bids are due at Mobile Dec. 10 for enlarging the main general purpose warehouse and performing various sitework in the vicinity of the warehouse and the emergency service building across the road. Prices will be Dec. 15 for construction of roads, parking areas and a combined truck-railroad car weighing facility.

Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., consulting engineers who prepared the commission's industrial feasibility study, were engaged to prepare and present to the Army Corps of Engineers at its hearing here next Tuesday the post group's position on proposed clearances for the

A-1 moving to 90

A-1 Radio and Television, which has been in business since 1956 at South Beach and Washington Street, is scheduled to move about Dec. 15 to new quarters being erected on U.S. 90 just west of Gulf Chevrolet.

August Robinson, proprietor, said the new building with a 50-foot driveway on the highway, will provide for a much larger display room. He estimated the project at $20,000 when completed.

5 votes pass bond issue

Bay St. Louis School System's proposed $1,000,000 bond issue was approved by voters more than the required 60 percent of the ballots cast in Tuesday's district-wide election.

That was the finding of the city election commission after a two-hour canvass of the vote Wednesday. The unofficial tally Tuesday night indicated the bond issue had carried by a scant one vote.

Voter approval of the bond program opens the way for City Commission Council and trustees of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District to proceed with legal details for sale of the issue which will finance a new expanded Bay High School on Blue Meadow Road and expansion of Waveland and Valena C. Jones School facilities.

The election commission ruled that 1,379 votes had been legally cast with 833 marked in favor of the bond issue and 546 opposed. Necessary for passage were 827.40 votes, on the basis of 60 per cent.

The officials declared rejected two ballots in North Bay precinct, five in South Bay and one in Waveland. These were not counted in the total vote cast.

Waveland, as many had anticipated, voted heavily in opposition to the school construction program. The official canvass was 227 opposed and 94 for it. Arlington precinct just did vote in favor of the program with 24 for and 23 opposed. (Cont. on Page 5)

Throw out Kiln box, Clifton Ladner asks

Clifton J. Ladner of Fenton, who ran second in the three-way race for the Best 4 seat on the county board of education in the November general election, has filed suit in Circuit Court seeking to throw out the Kiln precinct returns.

The court contest followed examination of the ballots last Friday by Ladner and his attorney, Harvey Hutchins.

Ladner contends that 41 persons voting at Kiln who had not paid poll taxes; 25 of them were not residents of the Kiln district in which they voted, and several had not registered to vote as required by Mississippi laws. He also alleged that the election commission had not designated three managers for this precinct as required but two and that one of them, Sylvester Moran, was not a qualified elector in the precinct but lived in Harrison County.

A number of other irregularities are charged in the complaint in which Ladner asks the court to eliminate use of the Kiln precinct in determining outcome of the election.

The election commission's canvass of the vote gave Ladner 34 votes at Kiln compared to 186 for Eric Larsen, declared the best-wide winner, and 10 for the incumbent, S.P. Powell. Best totals were 273 for Larsen, 210 for Ladner and 84 for Powell.

St. Clare's dedication is Sunday

The new school and convent buildings of St. Clare's Catholic Church, Waveland, will be formally dedicated Sunday at a special service conducted by Bishop Richard Gerow of the Jackson-Natchez diocese at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the new church which is the first phase of the parish building program.

An open house is planned after the services to permit the general public to view the two new structures.

Sisters from the Dominican Order in the area will arrive about 1:30 p.m. to join the three sisters teaching at St. Clare's in the local celebration. They will leave at 3:30 p.m.

The school, which now has four classrooms in operation, is built to accommodate nine classes in addition to kitchen and cafeteria facilities. The convent includes 10 bedrooms, one dormitory, is living room, community room, chapel, laundry, kitchen and bath.

County school budget voted

A budget providing for expenditures of $382,920.50 in fiscal 1964-65 was approved by the county board of education Friday night. Receipts are figured at $359,245.71, a $144,755 of that from local sources on the 22 mill tax rate for the $6,628,282 assessed value. State contribution is $192,470. (Cont. on Page 4)

The Smart Place To Go... For Good Things To Eat

The first of a series of articles about a remarkable group of people who have been living in the same place for over 100 years. The first of these people is a woman named Mary. She is 100 years old and has lived in the same place for over 100 years. She is a remarkable woman and a true pioneer. She has seen many changes in the world and has lived through many hardships. But she has always remained strong and resilient. She is a true inspiration to all of us.

Cause for celebration

Coach William Seymour and Billy Sims at Bay High School were busy shaping up their varsity basketball team today for the season's first game at high school basketball season today.

The Tigers are putting considerable hope on Jeff Phipps, a sophomore, one-time center who came from Florida. Other starters being counted upon are guards Johnny Pearson, Mike Necaise, Boogie Dean, Mike Strang, Larry Gagnon; and forwards Larry Johnston, Freddie Braland, and Walter Gagnon.

The starting line-up of the Tigers will be short several players out possibly for the entire season. These include Ross Manning, Dick Mastayer and a Charles Necaise.

The varsity girls of Bay High look strong and have plenty of depth as the cage stage is set for 1964-65. At forward position the Tigresses will be calling on Melva Luke, Pat Miller, Sandra Ladner, Pat Perniciaro, Ellen McDonald, Ann Perkins and Cheryl Moran. Guarding the home basket will be Gerry Kidd, Piji White, Deane McCordie, Beverly Ladner, Kay Manasco, Sally Porter, Dora McGee, Fay Manasco and Kathy Everett.

Two promising ninth graders moving up to varsity positions are Sharon Dean, guard, and Angela Smith, forward.

PROCLAMATION

A majority of the merchants in the Beach area have petitioned the Commission Council to enact regulations during the month of December to regulate the parking of cars in the area.

These merchants feel that a moratorium on parking regulations will stimulate more business activity in the area.

It is the desire and intent of the Commission Council to be concerned with the welfare of the people as well as the general public, and it is the unanimous opinion of the Commission that a moratorium on parking meter regulations will result in a benefit to all of our citizens during the holiday season.

WHEREFORE, be it resolved that the parking meter regulations be and are hereby lifted during the month of December, 1964, a one-hour parking limit will be enforced during this period.

By signature and official seal of the City of Bay St. Louis, this 24th day of November, A. D., 1964.
